Session Report:

The workshop commenced with Mrs. Shaheen Momin, Librarian of AIKTC, welcoming all participants and providing a brief introduction to the theme of the workshop, followed by the recital of verses from the Quran. Dr. Shariq Syed, the Dean of School of Pharmacy at AIKTC, warmly welcomed the speaker and attendees. He expressed his appreciation for the library team's efforts in organizing motivating events for faculty development. He also emphasized the workshop's goals, guiding principles, and its significance for the NAAC/NBA accreditation and the teaching fraternity in promoting hybrid education mode.

Mrs. Shaheen Momin, the Librarian, then introduced the resource persons, Mr. Bhushan Kulkarni and Mr. Vikas Ingale. Before the lunch break, Mr. Bhushan Kulkarni provided an overview of eContents / MOOCs and their importance in education. He discussed Outcome-Based Education and various instruments and software required for creating eContents. This was followed by Mr. Vikas Ingale's enlightening introduction on the significance of videography/cinematography in education.

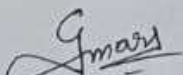

Post lunch, Mr. Ingale conducted a practical session on videography, while Mr. Bhushan led hands-on sessions on "Open Camera for Pro Level Photography and Video Shoot" and "VITA for Video Editing and Production" in detail. The workshop concluded with a stimulating question-and-answer session.

Participants shared their feedback, and Dr. Rajendra Magar, HoD-CE and Dean Academics, conveyed a vote of thanks on behalf of the organization. The workshop provided valuable insights and knowledge to the attendees, furthering their professional development in the field of education and technology.
