Ms Rida Boblai
Final Year B. Pharm

It has been an amazing journey of 4 years, seeking knowledge and adventure in our academics. The college provided us with an opportunity to collaborate on many levels with many prestigious organizations. The professors took the initiative from innovative and interactive learning to encouraging us to participate in profile boosting seminars. The college has not only encouraged us for paper publications but has also been keen in helping us with the research pertaining to the publication. In the midst of stressful examination and curriculars, the college arranged for us to have creative and enjoyable camps and visits. The professors, especially our dean arranged for us to participate in poster presentations, seminars, quizzes both intercollegiate and intracollegiate and different courses organized by IVY league colleges. They provided us with an amazing opportunity to collaborate with universities of different countries for our final year project, thus sparking an interest of research in us.

Ms Tannu Tripathi
F.Y.B.Pharm

I am Tanu Tripathi, from FY B Pharm in AIKTC. So here I'm sharing my little journey of Pharmacy in my life. In the initial phase where I got to know what is Pharmacy and about each & every subject in it. I've always experimenting with chemicals & involving myself also. The experiments of life that took my test of potential through multiple ways, I've scored my best in them all. On some days I was the best in the room & on other days I've been last one, those who are still trying to complete given experiment & learning something new. The formula of achieving good marks in every experiment of life or class is basically "Never Give Up Attitude". The teaching staff & especially Dean Sir of Pharmacy, always helped me in need & they're a source of inspiration to every student. Overall the conclusion of my experience is basically a ride of roller coaster with many ups & down with a lot of fun & learning.

DARKNESS OF HEAVEN

The sky and the Darkness of Heaven combines with me to give birth to the scribble poems I write, I've already told them about you, they know you well enough.....
Hope this trio lasts forever
The night of darkness always brings up my most uncontrollable tears in the form of wind,
I didn't spoke a single word from my mouth,
Yet they've gotten my silence very well Only this time, I can be the real me pure as water, raw as fire and calm as waves The relation of my eyes & sky is so compatible that it can't be beaten up The moon & the stars healed many of my scars.

MATURITY

I sneaked through the window ,
Swelling with pride ,
For all the horrors I had left behind ,
The green grass a mystic view ,
Reminded me how much I have grown ,
From a dull soul to an elysian ,
I have come a long way.

The license in my pocket , Hits me with an adulthood I didn't expect, From being a good daughter to a responsible one, It's hard to run.

Accepting that is one of the hardest things to do, But it is what maturity is Being hurt , wounds and pain To just standing up and walking away.

What I was years ago
To what I am today
For maturity is a ship just sinking away.

STUDENT CORNER

CHAOS

I buried myself amidst this chaos
Chaos is a captivating state,
The tornado of emotions ,
Crashing and rebuilding mode ,
Yet , I embrace the chaos .
The chaos if truth .

A glimpse of hope that I can solve the chaos ,
Then it's gone
It's uncontrollable and exhausting .

Chaos is a part of life that refuses to leave ,
It is the foundation of the day that swallows your confidence and produces a negative effect .

The world around me loses in,
My heart is racing , where to begin A daily battle I can't seem to win
From a world where chaos remains .

Chaos is the inner version of truth ,
I too have known this ,
I know what it is to feel Rejected,
Demented and suddenly
Not at all worthy .

A star shines on its own Sets the darkness within ,
Chaos always comes back stronger
But I do too.

BROWN SKIN GIRL

Brown skin girl with your shimmering glow,
Let yourself grow,
From your beautiful cocoa butter soul ,
Stop hiding yourself with the perfect foundation ,
Brown skin girl hold your head up high,
Open your wings and fly .

Brown skin girl show off the real you ,
Your fear of rejection will never come true ,
Brown skin girl where do I begin?
You think you are not beautiful ,
But to have you is like a win,
Compared to the fair skin girls,
You think people don't notice you,
For you are sweeter than honey,
You have the colour of the sunset ,
And a smile of the morning dew.

Brown skin girl you are absolute beauty ,
Your soul is pure white,
And you look at people with a smile so wide ,
Having brown skin is not a crime,
Stop giving people your precious time.

Brown skin girl your beauty
Is a fix of melted chocolate, For people who are craving the bitter sweet taste,
Flaunt your caramel skin
Like the golden soul , you have within .

DARK TIMES

Time is unpredictable ,
One moment you think you have everything ,
And another you have lost a battle , Times when the wind rustling by gives you the shiver you deserve, Times when the hot summer gives you a smile on your face .

A moment when you look at yourself in the mirror knowing that you are perfect , The next thing you know you have collapsed,
An image of you playing with children,
While your Loved ones shed tears, At the time when you were on your hospital bed ,
Dying to enjoy the bright morning,
The darkness sets in .

I wish I wrote the way I thought ,
With obsessive madness ,
Diving into the darkest chapters of my life,
Being hated and scorned is painful, Where I'm ignored and forgotten has vanquished my heart , Somewhere I'm finding ways to save my sinking soul,
But I'm feeling myself hard to control, Times when you notice a big bright smile on someone ,
And realise that ,
Your smile has flourished in the darkness
